Three Core Practices for Christian Leaders

2024-2025 has been a year of growth and development. Not only have we increased our enrollment 40% we have offered new courses, deepened partnerships, and established regular rhythms for serving the global church. Sometimes growth is disorienting as it can cause us to lose our balance. For us, however, it has been clarifying and energizing.

We have invested significantly in the three core practices of Christian leadership:

- interpreting Scripture together
- doing theology in context
- forming communities of disciples.

Whether interpreting the Gospels and Acts with Pentecostal church leaders in Tanzania, learning a theology of faith and work from Latin Americans for Latin Americans, or forming a new learning community in Nairobi, we keep practicing these 3 core tasks of ministry with you - servant leaders of Christ's global church.

Stay tuned for more news about opportunities for your network of leaders to join our webinars, quarterly events or degree options. We look forward to meeting you and continuing to learn together all the ways of Jesus and His kingdom.

Student Testimonies

Thanks to my scholarship, I am better equipped to serve my church and community with greater biblical depth and doctrinal faithfulness. The teaching I have received is ... strengthening my ability to preach, teach, and disciple with clarity and conviction.

—Santo “Carlos” Quiroz
Dominican Republic

I chose Thirdmill Seminary to learn while I serve. I work in youth ministry, and realized I needed more Bible training. After praying for guidance and doing some research, Thirdmill Seminary was clearly my best option to grow and learn, then share with others.

Partnering with Agathos and City to City to launch new course: Faith & Work

Marcelo Robles, author and host

In May, we launched a new tool to help equip Christians in their image-bearing roles as workers, creators, managers, and providers. Together with Agathos and City to City Latin America, we introduced a new Faith & Work course in 3 languages—Spanish, Portuguese and English—to discipleship leaders from 9 countries.

Agathos is an initiative of The Grace Institute to serve Spanish-speaking leaders. They provide Thirdmill curriculum and other classes on their online app and also gather together learning communities across Latin America.
